OGDEN CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MAKES REPORT FOR YEAR 1921

Following is the report of the Ogden chamber of commerce prepared by the officers for the members of the organization:

GENERAL CONDITIONS.
Our city has made excellent progress during the past year, proving the slogan proposed at its beginning that "1921 will reward fighters."
In spite of the fact that the past year has been one of universal business and financial depression, and the further fact that prices of the principal commodities produced in Ogden's territory have been greatly depressed, a comparison with other cities will prove that our number of employed is less and our financial condition stronger. We have fewer business failures, and retail trade is better. Farmers, owing to diversified crop production, have suffered less. Our factory output, though reduced, is still greater than in many other localities. Though equally hard hit by high freight rates, we have suffered less, since so much of our heavy products are converted into the manufactured commodity before shipping. As proven by school census, our population has materially increased. Nearly 600 new buildings have been added to the assessment roll. A great number of improvements have been completed by city, county, the railroad and public service corporations.

HOUSING.

The chamber of commerce vigorously attacked the housing problem, the annual meeting of one year ago tonight devoted to a discussion of the situation. The acute shortage of that time has disappeared. Assistance in obtaining reduced prices and rates was given and money for those desiring to build was obtained from private parties. To the credit of $100,000. Building permits for 1921 amount to $1,177,672.00, a majority of which amount has gone into residential buildings. Ogden, already noted as a city of home-owners, is proud of its year's increase in that which above all else builds good citizenship.

COOPERATION.

The chamber of commerce has enjoyed throughout the year, the fullest cooperation from all of the civic clubs and other organizations which are interested in the upbuilding of Ogden, and in turn has supported the promotion of the Wide West Show, the Stock Show, the Civic League, etc., in their activities.

More than a score of illustrated articles on Ogden, ranging from one to four pages in length, were prepared by the secretary at the request of as many state and national magazines, and published in those periodicals during the year.

CAPITALIZING OUR GOOD NAME.

The chamber of commerce has been successful in obtaining water by drilling at the arsenal site, and the water from the Ogden reservoir for such purpose, applied to the chamber of commerce for temporary assistance, which the chamber has granted. The water from the Ogden reservoir is being piped six miles to the arsenal site, from the Ogden chamber of commerce.

PREDICT RISES IN TOMATO PACK

Pack Far Short of Previous Years and Supply Is Held Inadequate

The annual tomato pack statistics just received in Ogden from the National Canners' association at Washington reveal a great decline in production over past years. The 1921 pack totaled 4,617,000 cases as compared with 13,348,000 for 1920. This is less than 35 per cent of the smallest pack ever recorded in the United States since figures have been compiled by the National Canners' association.

According to local canners this bears out summer predictions and post-pack estimates of the smallest tomato pack in many years, and as a consequence higher prices are declared inevitable.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 17.—

The canning industry will be unable to function normally until freight rates are reduced, declared Harry P. Strassburg, Aberdeen, Md., president of the National Canners' association in his address at the opening of the canners' convention. Production and consumption alike are being retarded for this reason, he added. Every effort is being made to get freight classification and commodity rates more favorable toward canned goods, he said, in recommending that the members co-operate with the association's traffic bureau.

OGDEN COW TOPIC OF HOLSTEIN ARTICLE

C. S. Potter of Ogden is mentioned in the official bulletin of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America, published bi-weekly at Delavan, Wis., which reports the milk and butter production of cows under official supervision. The pure-bred registered Holstein-Friesian cow, Langland Beauty Marston, belonging to Mr. Potter, is reported as having made at the age of three years, a record of 434.9 pounds of milk and 16.08 pounds of butterfat in seven days, equivalent to 22 pounds of butter. She breaks all records, so is declared champion for the state of Utah in the Junior three year old class.

At the Ogden Stock show this cow won second in the three-year-old class and was third in the milk and butter contest for all ages.

W. S. Millar, Central Coach Case Brought By John McFarland Thrown Out in City Court

Following admissions under cross-examination of John McFarland, complaining witness in the case of the state against Harry Harnes, charged with branding sheep that he did not own, City Judge D. R. Roberts dismissed the case in the city court this morning on the motion of County Attorney David Wilson.

Mr. Wilson arose in court and said that the facts had been misrepresented to him and that he wished the case dismissed as he wanted to wash his hands of it.

HIGH COST OF CANS WILL BE DISCUSSED

Excessive freight rates and high prices on cans and canned goods materials will be the subject to be discussed at the next meeting of the Utah Canners' association, it was announced today. The meeting will be held in the Ogden offices with President W. J. Parker presiding, February 15.

Packs for 1922 will not be considered until after the coming conference. This question is held by members of the Utah Canners' association in view of the fact that many of the plants in the state will not be able to operate unless better freight rates are obtained and unless there is a reduction in the price of cans. Many of the members of the Utah organization say that despite the fact that the cost of materials has increased in 1921 the price of cans axiated.
